

Notes on further regulations / guidelines

Enclosed is a summary of relevant information, in accordance with legal requirements, regarding hazardous substances:

Please note that the instructions for the regulations listed below do not constitute recommendations for the application or operation of the electronic components we supply, or the infringement of patents, copyrights, designs, or other intellectual property.

Regulation (EU) 2019/1021 on persistent organic pollutants (POP Regulation - New Version) - including amendments that have come into force:

http://ec.europa.eu/environment/archives/pops/index_en.htm EUR-Lex - 02019R1021-20210315 - EN - EUR-Lex (europa.eu)

Regulation (EC) No. 1005/2009 on substances that deplete the ozone layer – including amendments that have come into force: EUR-Lex - 02009R1005-20170419 - EN - EUR-Lex (europa.eu)

Regulation (EU) No. 517/2014 on fluorinated greenhouse gases - including amendments that have come into force: EUR-Lex - 32014R0517 - EN - EUR-Lex (europa.eu)

Directive 94/62/EC on packaging and packaging waste - including amendments that have come into force: EUR-Lex - 01994L0062-20180704 - EN - EUR-Lex (europa.eu)

Directive 2006/66/EC on batteries and accumulators and waste batteries and accumulators - including amendments that have come into force: EUR-Lex - 02006L0066-20180704 - EN - EUR-Lex (europa.eu)

California Proposition 65 ("CP65") We have no information from our manufacturers/suppliers regarding compliance with California Proposition 65. Therefore, we cannot make any statement regarding compliance with California Proposition 65.

<https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65>

We expressly point out that the information provided does not replace the further assessment or testing you may need to carry out to determine the suitability of a particular product for your specific purpose.